How to keep your Silver Line sink in perfect condition

Make it timeless

Timeless. Elegant. Like fine silver, its beautiful finish enhances with age and use. But this does not mean you can neglect the care of this essential kitchen item. As a rule, stainless steel's best friend is cold, clean water or a mild detergent solution, applied with a soft sponge, rinsed well and wiped dry.

Here are some products or elements that can damage your sink:

Chlorides

Chlorides are found in almost all soaps, detergents and cleaning products and can damage stainless steel. They are water soluble, however, so if you rinse away the residue after each use, a weekly scouring is all that is needed to keep your sink looking bright and shiny.

Scratches

Like most metallic surfaces, your stainless steel sink will scratch. Don't worry; these are simply usage marks which will eventually blend into the overall finish of the sink.

Knives

Your sink is designed to serve as many things but one of these is not a chopping board. This type of use will cause deep scratches in its surface, and will also blunt your knives. For additional work space, choose from our wide range of chopping boards.

Water Quality

The quality of your water can affect the appearance of your sink. When water has a high iron content, a brown surface stain can form on the sink giving the appearance of rust. Also, in areas with a high concentration of minerals or over-softened water, a white film may develop on the sink. To combat these problems, we suggest you wipe the sink dry after each use and give it a more thorough clean each week using a recommended abrasive product.

Foods

Foods containing high levels of salt should not be allowed to dry on the sink surface. Rinse your sink thoroughly after use.
